

CES (Consumer Electronics Show)

T.H.E. Show

Las Vegas

Day 3, Saturday, January 7th, 2006

King's Audio, Ltd. - These speakers are $6K or so, according to a second-hand source. The sound was enjoyable, being a well-balanced blend of detail and liquidity. This room sounded better to my ears than the very dry-sounding Sound Lab* room. Personally, I think the Sound Lab speakers look nicer than these look - and they do sound better... at least they sound (a lot, more detail, better coherence, flatter response, etc.) better here at Audio Federation than these speakers sounded at the show. And please don't write me to say I put parenthesis at strange locations in my sentences, I already know this.
